THERE ARE TWICE AS MANY businesses listed in the Dun & Bradstreet reference book in November, 1964, for Campbell than there were in the same book in November, 1954.

The reference book lists only manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and some service companies such as gas stations and laundries. It does not include all professional and service businesses such as barber and beauty shops, real estate and stock brokers.

So the increase in the number of business firms in town in the ten years is even more startling.

According to the report, in November, 1954, there were 169 businesses listed for Campbell. Last November there were 347 or a 105 per cent increase.

We don't know exactly what this proves, if anything. But it certainly does show that there has been tremendous commercial and industrial expansion to keep pace with the population explosion.

COMPARATIVE STATISTICS for the county by cities reveal that Milpitas showed the greatest percentage of increase in firms in the 10-year period. Milpitas had only 18 firms listed in 1954 while in 1964 the list had exploded to 73 for 305 per cent increase.

Saratoga was another city that showed a high percentage increase in businesses. In 1954 Saratoga was shown to have 62 firms while in 1964 there were 130 listed or 109 per cent increase.

Los Gatos, on the other hand, in the 10-year span only showed a 8.8 per cent increase. In 1954 Los Gatos listed 316 firms and in 1964 there were 344.

Incidentally, the county from an overall point of view showed a 42.5 per cent increase in business firms (5926 to 8446), the highest percentage of increase in the nine Bay Area counties. Three of the counties, Alameda, San Francisco and Solano, showed a decline in business firms in the 10 years from 1954 to 1964.

SOMEWHAT SHAMEFACEDLY we admit that we find that quite often we are turning on our television set at home without regard to whether the program that is scheduled has anything to offer in the way of entertainment.. or any other way.

Yet there are days that go by in our home when the one-eyed monster just sits in the corner without opening its big fat trap.

Incumbent school board members face opposition

Incumbent members of school boards in every school district in the Campbell area will face opposition in the April 20 trustee election.

But in the Campbell Union (elementary) district, there are only four candidates for three seats and three of candidates are incumbents.

Seeking reelection in the district are Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, Howard E. Guilbert, and John M. Merriell, Bernard L. Weddel, a professor of accounting, is the lone challenger.

Deadline for filing for trustee was last Friday at 5 p.m.

In the Campbell Union High School District, William Murphy, whose term is expiring, did not file but Vern Rutlen and William Lloyd, incumbent trustees, did.

Six other candidates also filed. These include, Richard F. Pinkham, 248 Ken Circle, Campbell; Morton H. Pastor, M.D., 3920 Williams Road, San Jose; Clovis T. Mirassou, 147 Old Orchard Road, Los Gatos; Thomas J. Grogan, 1079 Phelps, San Jose; Granville Basye, 336 April Way, Campbell; and Mrs. Dorothy V. Goble, San Jose.

Three challengers, Fred M. Peterson, Gus D. Streck and John W. Anderson, face the three incumbents, Frederick C. Noe, Jr., Richard H. Penrose, and Eugene Riordan, in the Moreland district.

Jack M. Farnham is the lone incumbent filing in the Cambrian district. There are Sewer bonds miss % in two city precincts

Only two of the nine precincts established within the city limits of Campbell for the $7.5 million sewer bond issue failed to give the issue the necessary two-thirds affirmative vote. The bond issue carried in the entire district by 71.04%

There were 39 consolidated precincts set up for the election on March 2 in the areas served by Sanitation District 4. Of the 40,417 registered voters in the district, 8412 went to the polls.

The total vote was 5976 in favor of the bond issue to 2346 opposed.

The bond issue had a majority in every precinct but in a couple the margin between yes and no was slim.

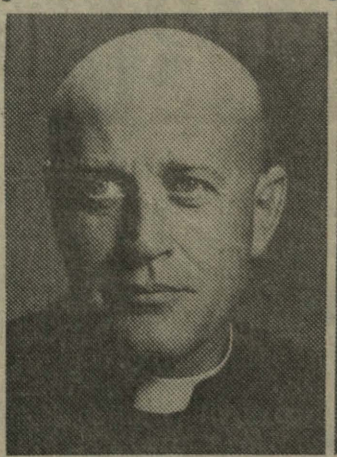
The two precincts in Campbell that failed to give the necessary two-thirds majority were 17S (Noonkester residence, 101 S. Fourth) and 24S (Capri School, 850 Steinway).

At the Fourth St. precinct, out of 115 votes cast, there were 42 "no" votes to 73 "yes" for 63.48%. At Capri School, out of 191 votes cast, there were 69 "no's" and 122 "yes's" or 63.87%.

Other Campbell precincts voted as follows:

Dover School; no, 57; yes, 151; 72.6%; Hamilton School, no, 48; yes, 106; 67.52%; School District office; no. 37: yes. 119 76.28%; Woods residence, 1586 Villarita; no, 28; yes, 142; 83.53%; Hazelwood School; no, 78; yes, 207; 72.63%; Rogers residence, 871 Virginia; no, 27; yes, 141; 83.93%; San Tomas School; no, 40; yes, 86; 68.25%.

Goes to Selma



ON THE SCENE--The Rev. A. D. Carson, vicar of St. Lawrence Episcopal Church in Campbell, was one of the hundreds of clergymen who this week went to Selma, Alabama, to participate in the protest march against the treatment accorded the Negroes earlier in the week. He flew to Selma late Monday night. He telephoned his wife here on Tuesday morning just prior to the arrival of the Rev. Martin Luther King. An all-day vigil at St. Lawrence on behalf of Rev. Carson was conducted Tuesday by lay members of the church.

Theater loses zone appeal before Council

Winchester Drive-In Theater's appeal for a zone change to allow the movies to move into a restrictive CM zone on Dell Ave. was the only one of four appeals before the City Council Monday night to completely strike out.

The theater will be forced to move from its present location on Sunnyoaks near Highway 17 when the expressway is constructed. The owners of the drive-in had been turned down by the Planning Commission when they sought a zone-change on Dell Ave. for a new site. They had appealed the commission ruling to the Council. But the Council unanimously upheld the planners.

The other three appeals fared much better.

Continued vandalism may cause city to lose plane

Juvenile vandalism may force Campbell to return the U.S. Air Force plane that has been one of the main attractions at Campbell Park since 1963 when the airplane was presented to the city.

Repairing the damage done by youthful vandals has become a frustrating experience for city personnel of the public works department. As soon as one repair job is done on the plane the destructive youngsters move in and inflict damage on another part of the ship.

City officials hope that when Phase II of the park improvement program is completed vandalism may be curtailed.

But if this doesn't happen, city officials are frank to admit that they may have to give up the ship.

One irate city employee claims that there are more patches and scars on the plane caused by vandals than if the plane had been flying in battle.

City awards contract

Hamilton Ave. low bid cuts estimate $45,000

Pleased with the number of bids submitted, as well as the competitiveness of them, the City Council on Monday night lost no time in awarding the Hamilton Ave. street improvement contract to J. C. Bateman, Inc., of San Jose, the low bidder.

The successful bid for the job was $155,679 and was more than $45,000 below the engineer's estimate of $202,679 for the job.

There were 10 bids submitted, all below the estimate, ranging from the low of $155,679 to the high of $195,778. The second low bid was $165,832 submitted by Pellegrini.

Others submitting bids included, R. J. Zipzie, Piazza, A. J. Raisch, Songroth, McCarthy and Spiesman, Petersen, L. C. Smith and Freeman.

The bids broke down the costs on various phases of the project which will include the long-awaited "cutting through" of Hamilton and the widening of the street to four moving

Disturbing damage

In this issue appear several photos of the airplane that was presented to the City of Campbell by the Air Force in 1963. The plane is located in Campbell Park which is now being expanded and improved on the Phase II of the park improvement program of the city.

The plane has proved to be an attraction for both youngsters and adults in the two years it has been in the park.

But it has also proved to be a problem.

Unfortunately there are a number of youngsters in the area whose training at home apparently has suffered when it comes to differentiating between right and wrong.

These youngsters, with their warped sense of values, have deliberately on numerous occasions damaged the plane by beating on it with hammers, rocks and bars.

It is difficult to understand what goes on in the mind of a juvenile when he maliciously destroys or damages public or private property for no apparent reason other than the sadistic pleasure he derives from such actions.

We realize, of course, that psychiatrists and psychologists perhaps could give us a reason for such vicious tendencies.

But we doubt if their "reasons" would satisfy us to any degree or would cool our temper. When we think about this wanton destruction on the part of juveniles remaining unchecked by parental discipline, we fume.

We recall similar incidents during Christmas time, the season of sweetness and light and good will toward men.

Lighted Christmas decorations in many instances were destroyed. Lights were taken and, in some cases, the bulbs were smashed at the end of the street.

We know it does very little good to harangue editorially about such matters. But we become so furious when we see such goings-on that we must erupt.

But to get back to the airplane in the park.

It has become a major project of the city's public works department to keep the ship in good repair. It is estimated that 144 man hours have been spent in patching the damages that have been done.

It has reached such a point now that the city administration wonders whether it is economically feasible to continue to try to undo the damage done mostly by the juvenile hoods. City officials are questioning whether it is worth the chips to keep the ship in passable repair.

We appreciate the city's position.

And that makes us madder than ever at those few undisciplined brats who could, by their actions, deprive the vast majority of good citizens, both young and old, of a worthwhile exhibit in our park.

ments. The TV wasn't turned on once. We enjoyed the respite.. thoroughly.

Although we must have missed some of our "favorite" programs during the bridge sessions, we'll get over it.

What bothers us about this attachment to TV, in our household is that it more or less has sneaked up on us. We find that we have fallen 'way behind in our reading. We recall that only a short time ago TV didn't interfere with our reading. We wouldn't allow it to do so.

We tuned in when the desired program was scheduled. The rest of the time the set was silent.

But now things are different. The set seems to be on most of the time. We now read on a catch-as-catch-can basis.

The tail is now wagging the dog.

What makes it even more complicated is that we have to take off our reading glasses to watch TV. Otherwise the picture is fuzzy.

So we seem to be constantly jerking our glasses on and off. (We wreck more temples thataway.)

Of course the same thing happens at the office. We use glasses at the typewriter but must take 'em off to recognize a person coming in the front door.

But we think we are going to beat that rap. We are going to get half glasses. We then will only have to look up over the bottoms and we can tell who the person is coming through the office door.

Or what is taking place on the TV screen.

It should also help us to catch up on our reading.

TELEVISION, however, has many good points. We thoroughly enjoy many of the programs that appear.

And some of our best friends are constant TV-watchers.

To offset this "guilt" complex we seem to be developing about television-viewing, we have made a point to tune in regularly on KQED (channel 9), the Bay Area educational television station.

This station is now staging a membership campaign in the nine counties that it serves. No commercials are aired by KQED. It is maintained by memberships which start at $12.50.

It takes $116,683 in new memberships, the station reports, to operate the station for a year and it is hoped that $19,253 (16 1/2%) of this amount will be forthcoming from Santa Clara County residents.

We plan to become a member, if for nothing else but to ease our conscience.

Music students in district to play in honor orchestra

Beginning Tuesday, March 16, advanced music students attending schools in Campbell Union School District will be able to work together in a new honor orchestra. The group will have members from all 19 district schools. Most members will be seventh and eighth graders, although a few sixth graders are expected to qualify.

According to district officials, the purpose is to giv[illegible]dvanced instrumental students an opportunity to play music too difficult for the regular school orchestras, in a completely balanced group. After the first rehearsal, auditions will be arranged for brass and woodwind students.

Students recommended by their school music teachers will meet for the first rehearsal from 3:45 p.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 16, at Monroe School.

The conducting responsibilities will be shared alternately by the entire group of Campbell Union School District music instructors. Section rehearsals will first be conducted by instructors who specialize in the different instruments: strings by John Loban, Wally Johnson and Mrs. Earlene Ware; brass and woodwinds by Ed Tonini, Walt Pattison and Phil Kates.

Then the entire orchestra will rehearse together. Following rehearsal appointments will be made for auditions. Charles Pyee, district music consultant, is the coordinator for the program.

Parents will be responsible for transportation of orchestra members. Following March 16, rehearsals will be held every Tuesday at the same time, at Monroe School.

Planners okay shopping center

A sharply divided Planning Commission at the commission's last meeting approved the application of Topaz Builders for a shopping center at San Tomas and Hacienda. The action came after a lengthy pro and con discussion.

And chances are there will be a repeat performance, with almost the same cast, when the matter hits the Council on March 22.

The issue comes before the Council because the conditions contained in the approval require an ordinance change.

Approval of the plans came on a 4-3 vote of the Commission with Jack Healey, Frank Klein, James Tomlinson and Thayer Lyons, giving the ok and Homer Hyde, Hal Lee and Ed Stojanovich opposing. Prior to the favorable vote, the alignment of the commissioners was the same on the opposite side of the motion to deny the permit.

At the same meeting, the commission denied the application of William Oltmann for a coin-operated car wash at Winchester and El Caminito.

Approval was granted for a restaurant to be located at 954 Camden Ave. The application for a use permit was submitted by William Gray.

Approval was also given for a zone change (R-1 to C-2-S) for property owned by C. Di Lonardo at 295 E. Hamilton.

In the final action at the commission meeting which was one of the most lengthy ones on record, the commission approved a change in meeting dates effective as of May 3, 1965.

Starting at that time, the commission will meet on the first and third Monday of each month. The commission has been meeting on Tuesday night.

chester by the Planners, got a breather from the Council.

Action on their appeal was continued to allow the Shell people to see if they could work out an arrangement with both the county and the city to cut down on the amount of land the city and county were requiring for street dedication. Shell representatives explained that more than 18,000 square feet of the 36,760 square-foot parcel had been earmarked by the county and city.

In another action on an appeal, the City Council directed the staff to study the situation of the Campbell Memorial Chapel and to see what could be done about either changing the fire zone or the building code. The appeals board had denied the request of the funeral home for a variance on the fire wall requirements. City Attorney Joseph Bonacina ruled that there could be no appeal from the appeal board's ruling. However, the building code or fire zone boundaries could be modified he explained.

The Council approved the request of Mrs. Connie Regas to allow a dwelling at 80 W. Rincon to continue to be used by West Valley College. The building is to be demolished next May as a condition of the building permit that had been issued previously.

lanes of traffic throughout the city.

A portion of the improved street will have six moving lanes and another part will have five.

The biggest single cost will be the asphalt concrete which the successful bid shows will come to $45,900. Aggregate base and sub-base will total $55,000 and excavating of the roadway will come to $15,750.

In another action which will affect eventually another capital improvement project for the city, the Council selected the architectural firm of Peterson and Hawley of Palo Alto to draft preliminary site plans for the city's second fire station to be located on Sunnyoaks. The firm had been recommended by a screening committee.

The Council also gave first reading to an annexation ordinance that will bring 2 1/2-acres into the city at San Tomas and Hacienda. The annexation will extend the area at that location where a shopping center is planned.

Kiely succeeds Anello on board

Richard Kiely, co-owner of Valley Athletic, has been appointed to the board of directors of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Joseph F. Anello.

Anello, co-publisher of The Campbell Press and associated with the newspaper since 1950, indicated that because of the press of personal business, he was not able to devote the time to C. of C. activities that he desired.

Your PG&E bill goes up in the winter, too.

Colder temperatures and longer nights increase your use of gas and electricity for heating and lighting your house. You spend more time indoors reading, cooking hot meals, using radio and TV sets and appliances. And that means a bigger PG&E bill. (In the spring, your bill starts down again.) But since 1961, there have been 3 major reductions in PG&E rates. Today the typical customer pays less than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electicity. Which means, whatever the season, PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

West Valley parents tour Juvenile Hall

Nearly 300 parents boarded buses at the six high schools in the Campbell Union High School District last Monday evening to be taken to Juvenile Hall for a tour of the building and an address on "Are We Delinquen Parents" by County Juvenile Probation officer, Robert Nino.

This first phase of "Project Alert" is a program designed to help parents recognize signs of potential delinquency in their very young children - long before teenage problems and school dropouts become a reality. It was devised by a few of the leaders of the El Paradiso District PTA, which embraces 24 schools in the area of the Campbell High School District. "Project Alert" is headed by Mrs. Earle R. Greer, herself a teacher in the district, and Vernon J. Rutlen, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Campbell High School District.

Rutlen explained the program thusly: "We deplore the tendency to consider juvenile delinquency a teen-age problem, when actually it is something that begins very early in a child's life. More and more," he said, "we find that proper training of children, and recognition of emotional problems, are items that are being sloughed off by parents to the schools."

THAT FEMININE TOUCH

By

Dolores Keywood

Posture a problem? Don't feel badly because this is not uncommon, but instead of becoming a shrinking violet because of it, do something about it.

First, determine where the defect is. Stand as straight as you normally do, with your arms relaxed at your sides. Check in a full length mirror will give you more answers than you dreamed possible.

Look at your hands. If the palms face front, it's because you're standing too straight and holding your shoulders too far back. If the back of the hands face front, the opposite applies. In other words, your shoulders slump forward.

The hands should be relaxed at the side seams of your skirt with the thumbs forward.

If the problem is lordosis (sway-back), the "wall-press" exercise is your most effective. The simplest way to describe this exercise is to have to stand about three or four inches away from the wall with the feet just slightly apart. Without changing the position of your feet, place the spine against the wall, so that each vertabrae is flush with the wall. Try putting your hand between your spine and the wall and if you feel any space there, at all, try flexing the knees, only slightly.

Now, without moving your back, move feet back so that heels touch the wall. Naturally, this can only be done, moving one foot at a time. As you do this, continue to check the space between your spine and the wall and the larger the gap, the more often this exercise is needed.

Any exercise that is designed for strengthening the abdominal muscles, also helps to correct the sway back problem.

One of the worst mistakes one can make, is to develop a habit of looking down at the floor. This not only creates a severe posture problem, but distorts the entire body, distributes one's weight unevenly and creates double chin. Needless to say, it gives one the appearance of being self conscious.

The chin should be held parallel to the floor, unless there is some reason to look up or down.

For further help in solving your own posture problem, call me at 378-8180 or write me in care of the Campbell Press.

Safeway Stores Incorporated, today announced that effective immediately all its Mrs. Wright's and Skylark Breads have been increased in weight but not in price.

In making the announcement, Gus H. Parker, San Francisco Division Manager, said that the larger sizes are the result of Safeway's belief that its customers have a right to expect a standard loaf of bread to weigh a pound and a large loaf to weigh a pound and a half.

Alquist urges boiler safety

Assemblyman Alfred E. Alquist (D-San Jose) introduced a Bill in the Lower House of the State Legislature creating a State Board of Boiler Operator Examiners.

Alquist said, "If this Bill is enacted, it will substantially increase the safety of boiler operation in California. Last September there was a tragic boiler explosion in San Jose which took the lives of several people and injured more than 50. This is not an isolated case. There are dozens of boiler accidents each year and hundreds have been injured by them. I believe we have a responsibility to do everything in our power to prevent this kind of needless catastrophe."

Alquist's Bill, AB 1251, makes the new Board responsible for determining standards of competence in boiler operation, administering examinations to ensure that boiler operators meet the standards, and issuing certificates of competence to successful applicants.

Assemblyman would change unification law

Three major amendments to the controversial Unruh school unification measure, AB 145, signed into law in 1964, have been introduced in the State Legislature.

One of the new bills, AB 1328, introduced by Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi (26th District, San Mateo County), would remove the provision that school districts must hold an election every two years until the people vote "yes".

This stipulation in the Unruh Law has stirred some school districts to request legal opinions about the Constitutionality of an act that requires people to vote "yes" on unification in order to obtain a $15 bonus for each student based upon average daily attendance figures.

Opponents of the law claim that tax money should not be used as "a bribe" and that such is tantamount to forcing the people to vote "yes" on school district unification.

Students win poster contest

Two Westmont High School students, Marv Newland and Toni Bello, have taken top places in the poster contest sponsored by the Santa Clara Valley Science Fair Association. Their posters publicize the countywide science fair scheduled March 19 through 21. It is being staged in the pavilion of Santa Clara County Fairgrounds. Awards will be presented to winning exhibitors on March 19 at 7:30 p.m. Selected technical papers will be read aloud by students.

More volunteers needed for cancer crusade

Three women leaders of the Santa Clara County Branch, American Cancer Society, today announced their preparations for the annual crusade in April and appealed for volunteers who are "willing and eager to join in this humanitarian work."

Mrs. Thoburn E. Lyons of Saratoga, president of the branch, Mrs. Maxine Smiley of San Jose, vice-president in charge of fund raising, and Mrs. Robert Baker of Santa Clara, county-wide residential chairman for the crusade, are working with the leaders of the various communities for complete coverage of all neighborhoods. In addition to the crusade for funds, the cancer volunteers will distribute literature in the public education drive against this disease which will take the lives of some 295,000 Americans this year.

Santa Clara County's goal in the April crusade is $110,500, compared to $103,000 raised last year. There is a need for more than 20,000 volunteers who will contact their neighbors and friends throughout the county, Mrs. Lyons stated. Volunteers are asked to call Cancer Society Headquarters - 297-0527.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The avalanche of bills to cure poverty continues. In a short period we have seen the Manpower Training and Development Act, the Vocational Education Act, the Area Redevelopment Act, the Accelerated Public Works Bill, the President's Anti-poverty Bill, and now last week the latest addition to the lineup--aid to Appalachia. As one columnist recently quipped, "There are so many offices in the war on poverty, one hardly knows where to surrender."

Appalachia is 165,000 square miles of hill country which stretches from southern New York across twelve states to northern Alabama. It includes 360 counties, 70 of which do not have sufficient unemployment to qualify as "depressed". The area includes Pittsburg, the steel capital of the world; the area served by TWA, where cheap power subsidized by taxpayers across the United States has attracted textile mills from New England; and, Huntsville, Alabama, the home of REDSTONE Arsenal and a National Space Flight Center which accounted for an increase of 6,000 jobs in a single year.

The bill would start a five-year, $1 billion program, four-fifths of which would go to the building of roads in the hope that improved transportation would attract new factories, new industry, and new jobs. In other words, roads will be built to coax industries to use them. So, instead of the world beating a path to the door of a man who made a better mousetrap, we seem to be beating the path first, hoping it will lead us to a mousetrap. It will.

Regardless of how prosperous the 70 non-depressed counties of Appalachia may be, they will benefit from federally constructed secondary roads constructed with 70% federal money while the rest of the nation will pay the bill and receive only 50% of what their roads cost. This is discrimination by geography.

The bill was without economic justification. At no time could its proponents prove that the highway and public works construction program would bring any new industry at all, and be any more successful than the Area Redevelopment Act already on the statute books. In plain language it is nothing more than the fulfillment of a political promise and preferential treatment of a selected region of the United States. It is more anti-poverty superimposed on more anti-poverty which we haven't had time to chew, let alone digest. It passsed the Senate when Senators from states outside the states of Appalachia responded to the carrot and stick argument that six more Appalachias were under consideration in the "Great Society"--the Ozarks, upper Great Lakes, northern Great Plains, upper Rocky Mountain states, the deep South, and northern New England. Of course, this means that the initial request of $1 billion for the Appalachia program is just the beginning of another long, drawn-out, giveaway program.

Senator Norris Cotton (R-NH) aptly described the Appalachia bill in three colorful lines in his recent newsletter: "I could think of no plausible grounds for special aid to Appalachia until I learned that the name is a Choctaw Indian word meaning 'friendly nation' or 'ally'. Now I get the idea--give the country back to the Indians and send them foreign aid."

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

By
Gladstone A. Boquist
Field Representative

Q. I work for wages on a farm. My boss takes out social security every week from my pay but I don't think he sends it in. When I asked him about it, he said he'll send it all in at the end of the year. Is this proper?

A. For a farm worker, yes. Unlike other employers, farmers don't have to make quarterly social security reports. They send in their social security reports once a year, in January.

Q. I received veterans benefits for eight months in 1964. Must these benefits be reported as money earned in 1964?

A. No. Veterans' benefits are among the types of income not reportable as earnings for social security purposes. For an explanation of the types of earnings that do count, ask your Social Security Office for Booklet No. 23, "If You Work While You Get Social Security Payments".

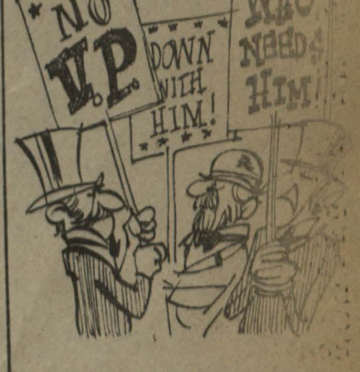
Q I've been receiving benefits for a few years. I was offered a part-time job which would pay me $1500 a year. Does it pay me to take the job since I lose some of my benefits?

A. Since you lose $1 in benefits for each $2 in earnings between $1200 and $1700, you lose only $150 in benefits by earning $1500. By working, you are increasing your total income for the year by $1350.

Q. I am a 14-year old high school student and I plan to work only a few days during the summer months. Will I need a social security number?

A. Yes. It does not matter how young you are or how little work you do. You will have to get a social security card in order that your employer can properly report your wages.

World Book Lore



NO V.P.
DOWN WITH HIM!
WHO NEEDS HIM!

The only U.S. vice-president who had to be selected by the Senate because the Electoral College failed to agree was Richard M. Johnson in 1837, who served under Martin Van Buren. He became so controversial a figure that the Democrats refused to renominate him in 1840—and nominated no one for the office. It was the only time a convention has failed to nominate a vice-presidential candidate.

Comic offers hints on kites

Cartoon favorite Magilla Gorilla mixes chuckles with some good advice for boys and girls in a new Kite Fun Book.

The full-color booklet, offering suggestions on kite-flying and kite-building, is available free at all offices of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Magilla and his friend, Mr. Peebles, are the latest of a number of comic character "stars" to bring safety hints to youngsters. Their booklet for the 1965 kite-flying season tells how to build box and star kites as well as plane surface types. It also contains puzzle and game features.

Copies may be obtained in quantity by school or youth groups.

The comic book story calls attention to these safety rules:

1. Don't cross streets or highways while flying kites.
2. Don't fly a kite with metal in the frame.
3. Don't use tinsel string, wire or any twine with metal in it.
4. Don't fly a kite near television or radio aerials.
5. Don't fly a kite near electric power lines.
6. Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.
7. Don't touch fallen electric wires.
8. Don't fly a kite in the rain.

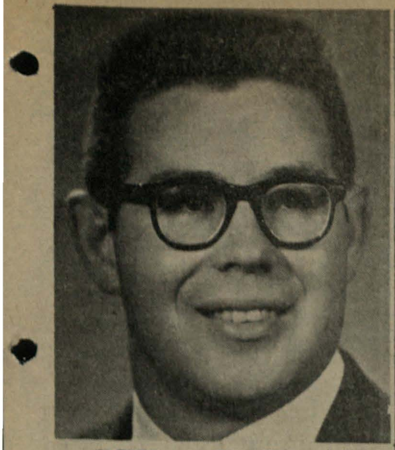
Program gives SJS students financial aid

Financial burdens of a college education will be eased for approximately 1000 San Jose State College students during the spring semester. The college has been approved as a member of the College Work-Study Program under the federal Economic Opportunity Act.

Based on minimal income status and availability of jobs, almost 1,000 SJSC students are eligible for the Work-Study Program. Students whose parents have less than $6,000 annual income, or are married or over 21 and financially independent of their parents are eligible.

Jobs for the students will be found both on and off campus. Placement of students will be directed by the college Placement Office. Students, who will be expected to be full-time in their college studies, will be able to work a maximum of 15 hours weekly while college classes are in session.



REV. DON STRAM

'Last words' to feature sermons of local pastor

"Wonderful Words of Jesus" will be the theme of a series of sermons to be presented by Don Stram, minister of the First Christian Church in Campbell.

The first seven sermons will be drawn from the "Seven Last Words" from the Cross.

Model car kits prove popular on toy front

To the surprise of some toy manufacturers and retailers, model car kits are now outselling model trains and, if the trend continues, model cars could become the biggest seller in the toy line within two years.

This is disclosed in Small Business Reporter, a periodical released by Bank of America.

Noting that model car racing is one of California's fastest growing forms of indoor recreation, the report points out the hobby-sport is so new that when industry officials speak of "pioneer days" they mean 1961-62.

Although the hobby-sport began in England in 1948, it was slow in being introduced to the American public. However, model car racing is now booming in California, with more than half the total volume of racing business in the United States done in this state.

While many early racing centers were simply another part of a hobby shop, there is no such thing as a "typical" model car racing center, according to the report.

"Many proprietors believe variety is the key to continuing customer interest," the report states, adding there has not vet been overbuilding or market saturation in the field.

Three Campbell agencies share in United Fund

O. S. Sorenson, Campbell United Fund campaign chairman and Bank of America manager has announced that three Campbell UF-affiliated agencies will share in the $1,032,689 earmarked for allocation to the 41 local and seven national agencies in Central Area UF Chapter.

Campbell Area Student Aid Fund, Eastfield Home of Benevolence and Campbell Welfare Fund will receive a combined total of $32,950 for their 1965 operations. A more complete breakdown of allocations for the entire chapter area is listed at the conclusion of this story.

A total of $55,324 in "new money" is available for distribution to agencies in the Central Area Chapter, which includes Campbell and 10 other nearby communities. These new funds are available primarily due to the fact that the chapter exceeded its 1964 campaign goal. Campbell likewise surpassed its mark, with Sorenson leading the City to 103% of quota.

Sorenson is also a member of the important chapter allocations and admissions committee. This group of 30 volunteers met over a period of several weeks with representatives of the individual agencies in budget review conferences. More than 650 hours were spent by the four separate panels in examining needs, budgets and past accomplishments.

Mrs. Bianco, a native of Bari, Italy, had lived here 63 years. Her late husband, Mark Bianco, farmed in the county for many years. He died in 1947.

She is survived by four sons, Peter, Paul, Joseph and Vincent Bianco of Casa Grande, Arizona, and two daughters, Angelica Bianco, and Mrs. Mary Corcoran, both of Campbell, and 10 grandchildren. A requiem High Mass was offered at Holy Family Church and entombment was in the Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery.

NEW EAGLE SCOUT --Robert DuBoise, who was awarded the Eagle Scout medal presents his mother, Mrs. Donn DuBoise with a miniature pin. Bob, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donn DuBoise of 3160 Cadillac Drive, San Jose, is a senior at Campbell High where he is captain of the swim team and sports editor of Campus Echo. His parents were hosts at a reception following the court of honor which was held at Trinity Presbyterian Church, Cambrian Park. He also earned the God and Country award when he was 12 and is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Del Mar Dateline

By

Rosalie Ann Castello

Janis Bacci has been named Del Mar's 1965 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. She received the highest score of all seniors at Del Mar and is now eligible to enter state and national competition.

Four Del Mar students were selected to attend the Western States Music Educator's Conference in Long Beach on April 11 through 14. There will be a band, orchestra, and choir as well as other planned programs. Students attending are Carol Abate, alto; Bill Erlendson, trombone; Carol Transeth, violin; and Travis Watkins, tenor. Bill Erlendson and Tony Thrall were chosen to attend the State Honor Band which was held in Santa Cruz, and Carol Transeth is playing in the All-California High School Symphony Orchestra in Santa Barbara.

Fifteen students from Del Mar attending the fourth annual Health Careers Conference at San Jose City College were Karen Akers, Phyllis Cohen, Kathy Conway, Bill Feldman, Estrella Fluemer, Diana Grosh, Terry Kalvelage, Fred Marcus, Joe Matthews, Sherry McCullough, Christine Steinert, Cathy Suerdieck, Martha Suto, and Tom Walker.

Del Mar Sports

by Tom Jacob

Spring sports are now the subject of conversation at Del Mar. All of the school's varsity teams have been practicing for the past month in preparation for the beginnings of their respective seasons.

The Dons varsity track team figures to be very strong in the running events, but lacks depth in the field events. Outstanding performances are anticipated for Tom Greenley in the 440, Wayne Howard in the 100, and Tom Gardner in the shot put. Based on their past records, these three seniors should lead the way to a fine track season.

Todd Hayes, a senior butterflier, shapes up as the brightest prospect for this years swimming team. Other standouts should be Junior Stan Poytress, and Freshmen Dave Shilling and Glenn Skank.

Lead by Senior Third Baseman Rhett Thompson, twice all-league and last year's most valuable player, the Del Mar varsity baseball team should be very strong this season. Pitchers Guy Martin and Rick Peryam should have good seasons, as the Dons' only question mark seems to be their bench strength.

WINS WINGS--Richard M. Larsen, 1321 McBain Ave., Campbell, has won his wings as a flight officer with American Airlines, qualified both as a co-pilot and flight engineer. Formerly Larsen was a Naval aviator with the rank of lieutenant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Larsen of Campbell and a graduate of San Jose State. He has been assigned to flight duty at New York.

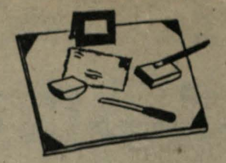
Letters to the Editor



TO THE PRESIDENT

Editor's Note:

Just prior to flying to Selma, Ala. the following telegram was sent by The Rev. A. D. Carson, of Campbell.

President Lyndon B. Johnson
Washington, D. C.

Appalled and shocked at the obscenities inflicted on the negro citizens of Selma, Alabama, yesterday. How can I continue to urge my people to respect our national government when it remains silent and inactive and by its' silence encourages this rape of the dignity of the human being. I beg you to intervene in Selma.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Campbell Press
Campbell, California

Gentlemen:

I am sure that you are thoroughly informed of the effect of the United States Supreme Court's majority opinion on the reapportionment of the State Senate of California along with the other State Senates in the United States.

In California the net effect will be to give control of the Legislature to Southern California, which is now able to control the Assembly and, ultimately the county areas of the State and the small communities will be without any effective voice in the Legislature since the large centers of population in the State will elect most of the membership in both houses.

California has repeatedly voted in favor of retaining the present "Federal System" whereby the membership of the Assembly is elected to office on the basis of population, which is the One Man-One Vote concept, while the Senate membership is elected to office on the basis of county district representation.

To preserve our present system it is only necessary for Congress to submit a Constitutional Amendment over-ruling the majority opinion of the Supreme Court.

I am writing to urge you to write to Senators Thomas H. Kuchel and George Murphy and to Congressmen Charles S. Gubser and Don Edwards. Senators Kuchel and Murphy and Congressman Gubser have publicly announced their support for a Constitutional Amendment; Don Edwards is presently opposed. Your interest in writing to these representatives will be most helpful, and your editorializing in support of an amendment will also be very helpful.

Very truly yours,

CLARK L. BRADLEY
State Senator
CLB/dhc
